DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

1. Claims 58-67 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. US Patent No. 6,861,658. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are directed to analogous phototherapeutic apparatuses.
2. Claims 58-77 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of copending Application No. 10/558,092. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are directed to analogous phototherapeutic apparatuses and methods of use for treating skin conditions.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 58, 59, 62, 66-69, 72 and 77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sullivan, US Patent No. 6,602,275.

Sullivan discloses a phototherapeutic apparatus and method of use for treating skin condition, the apparatus comprising a chamber and a plurality of light emitting diodes (LEDs) disposed in the chamber for irradiating skin/body of a patient inside the chamber as claimed (see Figs. 5 and 5A).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 58-77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Doty et al. US Patent No. 5,374,825 in view of Lieber et al. US Patent No. 7,254,151.

Doty et al. disclose a tanning device comprising: a chamber adapted for receiving a human subject to be tanned, and a plurality of light sources for emitting UV light onto the subject's skin.

Claims 65 and 66 are directed to intended use of the device. The recited claims languages are devoid of any structural and/or functional limitations and, therefore, are not given any patentable weight.

Doty et al. do not teach the use of LEDs or a nanostructure device for emitting the UV light as claimed. However, the examiner notes that the use of LEDs for emitting tissue treatment or tanning energy is known in the art. Moreover, the use of a nanostructure or nanowire element/device pumped by UV light source to generate a narrowband light in the UV range is known in the art. Lieber et al. teach the use of nanowire, which produces UV light when it is pumped/ excited with UV light of about 370 nm.

Therefore, at the time of the applicant's invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use LEDs as an equivalent alternative light sources to provide the therapeutic light, or a nanostructure device pumped with short wavelength UV light to produce a longer wavelength UV light for tanning the skin of the subject. The use of nanostructure element to shift shorter wavelength UV light such as UVC or UVB, to a longer UVA light would reduce exposure of damaging shorter UV wavelengths to the subject's skin.
